The Trial of Andrew Johnson.

WASHINGTON, March 30, 1868.—At 12:30 the President pro tempore vacated the chair, which was immediately taken by the Chief Justice.

The Sergeant-at-arms made proclamation commanding silence.

The President's counsel entered and took their seats as before, at 12:45, and the Sergeant-at-arms announced the managers on the part of the House of Representatives, who took their places with the exception of Mr. Stevens, who entered soon afterwards and took a seat slightly apart from the managers' tables.

The House of Representatives were then announced, and the members appeared, headed by Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, on the arm of the clerk of the House, and were seated.

The minutes of the last day of trial were read, and Mr. Butler commenced his opening at a quarter before 1.

GENERAL BUTLER'S SPEECH.

Mr. Butler opens his argument by alluding to the onorous duty that has fallen upon him, and the novelty of the proceedings in which, for the first time in the history of the world, has a nation brought before its highest tribunal its Chief Executive for trial on charges of maladministration of the powers and duties of his office. The Constitution provides that the President, Vice President, and all civil officers shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason, bribery and other high crimes and misdemeanors.

The House of Representatives shall solely impeach, the Senate only shall try, and in case of conviction the judgment shall alone be removal from office and disqualification for office, one or both. These mandatory became necessary to adapt a well known procedure of the mother country to the institutions of the then infant republic. But a single incident only of the business was left to construction, and that concerns the offenses or incapacities which are the groundwork of impeachment. This was wisely done because human foresight is inadequate, and human intelligence fails in the task of anticipating and providing for, by positive enactment, all the infinite gradations of human wrong and sin, by which the liberties of a people, and the safety of a nation may be endangered from the imbecility, corruption and unhallowed ambition of its works.

He then examines the question—"What are unbearable offences under the provisions of our Constitution?"—He states that he will give the result to which he has arrived, and at the close of his argument the authorities and discussions both in this country and in England, from which the Managers deduce their propositions, prepared by the Hon. William Lawrence, of Ohio, member of the House Judiciary Committee, in which he fully concurs and adopts.

We define, therefore, an impeachable crime or misdemeanor to be one in its nature or consequences subversive of some fundamental or essential principle of Government, or highly prejudicial to the public interests, and this may consist of a violation of the Constitution or laws, of an official oath, or of duty, by an act committed or omitted, or, without violating a positive law, by the abuse of discretionary powers from improper motives, or for any improper purpose.

In examining the question, Mr. Butler quotes Mr. Madison, who, in the first Congress, when discussing the power of the President to remove an officer, uses the following words: "The danger consists mainly in this—that the President can displace from office a man whose merits require he should be continued in it. In the first place, he will be impeached by the House for such an act of maladministration: for I contend that the wanton removal of a meritorious officer would subject him to impeachment and removal from his own high trust."

In considering the question, Is this body now sitting to determine the accusation of the House of Representatives against the President, the Senate of the United States as a Court? he says:—"We claim and respectfully insist that this tribunal has none of the attributes of a judicial court, as they are commonly received and understood. Of course this question must be legally determined by the express provisions of the Constitution, and in it there is no word, as is well known to you, Senators, which gives the slightest coloring to the idea that this is a court save that on the trial of this particular respondent, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court must preside. But even this provision can have no determining effect upon this question, because is not this the same tribunal in all its powers, incidents and duties, when other civil officers are brought to its bar for trial, when the Vice President (not a judicial officer) must preside? Can it be contended for a moment that this is the Senate of the United States when sitting on the trial of all other officers, and a Court only when the President is at the bar, solely because in this case the Constitution has designated the Chief Justice as the presiding officer?

He then states that the first eight articles set out in several distinct forms the acts of the respondent in removing Mr. Stanton from office and appointing Mr. Thomas ad interim, differing in legal effect in the purposes for which, and the intent with which, either or both of the acts were done, and the legal duties infringed, and the acts of Congress violated in so doing. After specifying these articles in detail, he says, that in addition to the proof already adduced, it will be shown that after the appointment of Thomas the President caused a formal notice to be served on the Secretary of the Treasury, to the end that the Secretary might answer the requisition for money of Thomas, and this was only prevented by the firmness with which Stanton retained possession of the books and papers of the War Office.

It will be seen that every fact charged in article 1 is admitted by the answer of the respondent; the intent is also admitted as charged; that is to say, to set aside the Civil Tenure of Office act, and to remove Mr. Stanton from the office of the Secretary for the Department of War, without the advice and consent of the Senate, and, if not justified, contrary to the provision of the Constitution itself. On this the respondent avers, that by the Constitution, there is "conferred on the President as a part of the Executive power, the power at any and all times of removing from office all Executive officers for cause, to be judged of by the President alone, and that he verily believes that the Executive power of removal from office confided to him by the Constitution includes the power of suspension from office indefinitely."

The plain and inevitable issue before the Senate and the American people, Has the President, under the Constitution, the more than kingly prerogative, at will, to remove from office and suspend from office indefinitely, all executive officers of the United States, either civil, military or naval, at any and all times, and fill the vacancies with creatures of his own appointment for his own purposes, and without any restraint whatever, or possibility of restraint, by the Senate or by Congress through laws duly enacted? If the affirmative is maintained, then so far as the first eight articles are concerned—unless such corrupt purposes are shown as will of themselves make the exercise of a legal power a crime—the respondent must go and ought to go quit free.

Therefore, by these eight articles and the answers there the momentous question, here and now, is raised whether the Presidential office (if it has the prerogatives and powers claimed for it) ought, in fact, to exist as a part of the constitutional government of a free people; while, by the last three articles, the less important inquiry is to be determined whether Andrew Johnson has so conducted himself that he ought longer to hold any constitutional office whatever.

When General Butler had concluded his speech Judge Wilson offered the documentary evidence for the prosecution; all of which he had, including the record of the confirmation of Secretary Stanton on Mr. Lincoln's nomination, together with Johnson's recognition of him as Secretary of War, contained in his message to the Senate last December, in which it will be remembered he detailed the reasons for the suspension of Mr. Stanton under the tenure of office act. When Judge Wilson had concluded, the Senate resolved itself into a legislative body and immediately adjourned.

Second Day of the Trial.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The impeachment court assembled at 12 o'clock. Mr. Wilson continued the evidence in support of the articles.

Mr. Wm. J. McDonald, clerk of the Senate, was the first witness called.

The examination by the managers has thus far been very brief, while the counsel take it very easily and evidently seem disposed to use up as much time as possible.

Mr. Burleigh, delegate from Dacotah, was the next witness. On being asked if he knew Gen. Thomas, Mr. Stanberry wished to know what the prosecution expected to prove by this witness.

Mr. Butler announced that they expected to prove that Gen. Thomas intended to obtain possession of the War Office by force.

Mr. Stanberry objected to the testimony of the witness, and the Chief Justice decided that the evidence was inadmissable.

Mr. Drake made a point that the Chief Justice had no power to decide such a question. He proceeded to speak in support of his view, but was called to order by Mr. Johnson, the question not being debatable.

Mr. Chase stated the position to be that the Chief Justice, as presiding officer, had a right to decide legal points, and that any Senator differing could appeal to the Senate whether such decision should stand as the sense of the court.

Mr. Butler rose and asked if this right also extended to managers, and the Chief Justice said he thought it did not.

Mr. Butler proceeded to speak in opposition to the decision of the Chair. He did not consider the Chief Justice a member of the court, and insisted, as a vital point, that he could not stand between the managers and the Senate, to prevent them from submitting, on the part of the House of Representatives, a question of law, except by the courtesy of some of the Senators. He cited precedents from English impeachment trials in support of his position.

The Chief Justice restated his position that it was his duty to decide up on further admissable evidence subject to the decision of the Senate should any senator desire to have the questions submitted, and said the question before the Senate now was whether his view should be sustained.

Mr. Conkling asked to have the rule of the Senate in relation to this subject read, which was done, and Mr. Bingham then spoke briefly in opposition to the right of the Chief Justice to decide any question.

Mr. Butler then read from the trial of Judge Chase to show that the presiding officer at that time did not decide incidental questions of law which arose but submitted [illegible]

Senator Wilson moved that the Senate retire for consultation, which proposition seemed to meet with general disapproval.

Mr. Sherman submitted in writing a question asking the managers for information as to American precedents on this subject.

Mr. Bingham then read an abstract of authorities on the subject.

Mr. Evarts, counsel for the President, very briefly argued that the Chief Justice should make preliminary decision on interlocutory questions.

The question being then put, and the yeas and nays being called whether the Senate should retire for deliberation; the vote stood—yeas 25, nays 25, and the Chief Justice announced that he voted in the affirmative, declaring the motion carried.

At last, at 6:20, the Senate returned and the Chief Justice, having called the body to order, said:—The Senate has had under consideration the question which was discussed before it retired and has directed me to report the following rule:

RULE 7. The presiding officer of the Senate shall direct all necessary preparations in the Senate Chamber and the presiding officer of the Senate shall direct all the forms of proceedings when the Senate is sitting for the purpose of trying an impeachment, and all forms during the trial, not otherwise especially provided for, and the presiding officer on trial may vote on all questions of evidence and on incidental questions, which decision will stand as the judgment of the Senate for decision, or he may, at his option, in the first instance submit any such question to a vote of the members of the Senate.

Mr. Butler intimated that the managers desired to retire for a consultation.

Senator Trumbull said that unless the managers desired the Senate to continue in session, he would now move an adjournment.

The managers intimated that they did not.

Senator Trumbull then made the motion for an adjournment to twelve o'clock to-morrow, which was carried.

The Chief Justice vacated the chair, and the Senate, having resumed its legislative session, adjourned at 6:20.

Little Things in Farming.

The whole success of a farmer hinges upon timely attention to little things This, mainly, makes the difference between thrift and poverty.—The philosophy of success is expressed in that old adage, "For want of a nail a shoe was lost, for want of a horse a man was lost." It is a little thing to keep accounts of the pecuniary transactions upon the farm. A half hour on Saturday evening would enable most farmers to know just how they stand with the world. Yet, we suspect half of the men who cultivate the soil never made an entry in a book, and for want of this, the account runs up fearfully at the store, and many articles of luxury are purchased for which they are unable to pay at the end of the year. Debt accumulates, the farm is mortgaged, and finally lost, for want of a little paper and ink. It is a little thing to put up a tool in its place when not in use. Yet many have no tool house, or place of shelter for any implement or vehicle. Things are left where they are last used, the plow in the field, the cart in the yard, the chains in the stable, the harness in the wood-house, the axe at the wood pile, and the rakes in the corn crib. Many do not even house the expensive implements they have bought, and reapers and thrashers are treated like old plows and harrows.—The parts made of iron and steel grow rusty, and the wood decays. A machine that is good for thirty years with proper care is used up in five by abuse. It is a very little thing to turn a nut when it is loose. Yet for want of the tightening the nut is lost, the bolt comes out, and the loaded wagon breaks down on the way to market, and a whole day for a man and team is lost. It is a little thing to keep a horse properly groomed, yet for want of clean fetlocks the skin cracks and the horse is lame, and the owner loses the use of him for months or weeks.—Ventilation is a small affair, yet for want of it, health of stock in stables suffers severely, and disease sets in.—It is a small affair to provide good seed at the beginning of the year, but the whole success of the season depends upon it. It is an easy thing to deal fairly with your neighbors and make a name that is better than "precious ointment."—National Journal.

☞Some years ago, a clergyman was preaching to a large audience in a wild part of Illinois, and announced for his text, "In my father's house there are many mansions." He had scarcely read the words, when an old coon stood up and said: "I'll tell you folks, that's a lie! I know his father well. He lives fifteen miles from Old Kentuck in an old log cabin, and there's but one room in the house."

☞"Does pa kiss you because he loves you?" inquired a snobby nosed urchin of his maternal ancestor, the other day.

"To be sure, sonny, why?"

"Well, I think he loves the cook, too, for he kissed her more than forty times last Sunday when you was gone to meeting."

Veto of the Free Railroad Bill.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—The bill entitled an act to authorize the formation of railroad corporation has received my careful consideration. In many respects it is what the people have long demanded, and is well adapted to meet their wants, and to subserve the public interests. But there are two serious objections to the proposed enactment: the one, because of its doubtful constitutionality, and the other, because of the inexpediency of the sixth section.

The sole object of the bill, as I understand it, and as indicated by the title, is "to authorize the formation of railroad corporations." The eighth section of the eleventh article of the Constitution provides that "No bill shall be passed by the Legislature containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in the title." The title of this bill expresses nothing except in relation to the creation or "formation of railroad corporations," and yet the sixth and tenth sections confer sundry power and privileges on railroad companies heretofore created and long since in successful operation. Are not the formation of new companies, and the granting new powers to old ones, entirely different subjects, and in nowise necessarily connected with each other? Whilst in the absence of judicial decision, I cannot positively affirm the unconstitutionality of the act, and that it would be so held by the courts, I cannot but so regard it, and so act upon it. At best, it is inexpedient and unwise thus needlessly to unite such incongrtous subjects in so important a bill, and thus jeopardise the many grave public and private interests involved therein.

The sixth section is as follows:—"Whenever any railroad company, chartered under the laws of this Commonwealth, or created and incorporated under the provisions of this act, shall, in the opinion of the directors thereof, require an increased amount of capital stock, they shall, if authorized by a majority of the stockholders, file with the Secretary of the Commonwealth a certificate setting forth the amount of such desired increase, and thereafter such company shall be entitled to have such increased as is fixed by said certificate."

The principle contained in this section, in my opinion, is substantially the same as that included in the bill passed by the Legislature at its last session, entitled An act to repeal an act entitled A further supplement to the act incorporating the Pennsylvania railroad company, authorizing an increase of capital stock, and to borrow money, to issue bonds, and to secure the same by mortgages, &c., and which was disapproved by me in a message to the Senate dated 20th of March, 1867. After mature consideration of the principles set forth in that communication, to which your attention is respectfully invited, I find no reason to retract or modify the views therein expressed. They are as forcibly applicable to the present act as to the one then disapproved. In regard to the bill then under consideration, I clearly expressed the opinion, that were it to become a law, the privileges of the company as well as its capital stock, could be extended without limit, and it allowed to embrace in it transactions any and every branch of business. There is no check proposed to confine it within its legitimate functions, and its tremendous power would be uncontrollable. To give to any company or association such unlimited powers and privileges, is inimical to every clear idea of republican government, and can only be productive of evil results; and these evils would be greatly aggravated by an extension of the same powers to all railroad companies, that now or may hereafter exist within the Commonwealth.

If the bill had limited the increase to some fixed proportion of the original capital, or to some annual per centage of increase theron, it might perhaps have been justified. But to allow any and every railroad company, on their own mere motion, and without any limitation whatever, to increase their capital stock to an am't equal to or greater than our National debt, and without prescribing or defining the objects for which it should be used, seems to me so unreasonable and monstrous, that the more I have reflected upon it, the more unwilling I become to consent to it.

Our Legislature has hitherto been liberal in allowing increase of capital for all proper objects and purposes, whenever the necessity or propriety for such increase could be shown, and it is fair to presume this liberality will continue. This whole power is in the hands of the people, to be exercised through their representatives, as emergencies may arise from time to time. They can grant it or withhold it, as in their judgment may be most conducive to the public good; and upon such terms and conditions as they, in their wisdom, shall see fit. Here I prefer this great power should remain at least until some better depositary can be found for it than in the railroad companies of the State, the interests and objects of which are not always in harmony with the public good.

It is my earnest desire to co operate with the Legislature in all its efforts to promote the general welfare; and my opinions on the subject of a free railroad law are too well known to need repetition. Should a bill pass without the objectionable features referred to, it would afford me great pleasure to give it my approval; but with my convictions of duty, I cannot do otherwise than return the present enactment with those objections.

OUR CANDIDATES:

FOR PRESIDENT,

U. S. GRANT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

A. G. CURTIN.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL,

GEN. JOHN F. HARTRANFT,

OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL,

COL. JACOB M. CAMPBELL,

OF CAMBRIA COUNTY.

☞ A Free Railroad bill has again passed the Legislature and has been approved by the Governor.

☞ We understand that Milton S. Lytle, Chairman of Republican county Committee, has sent to each member of the Committee a circular calling a meeting for Tuesday next, the 14th inst., at 2 o'clock, P. M. This is in accordance with a resolution passed at last meeting.

THE RHODE ISLAND ELECTION.—The full returns of the Rhode Island election have been received. Gov. Burnside, Republican, received 10,038; Pierce, Democrat, 5,731. The General Assembly stands—Senate 28 Republicans, 3 Democrats, one vacancy; House, 64 Republicans, 7 Democrats, one vacancy.

CLOSED AT LAST.—The Robison-Shugart contested seat case closed Friday last in favor of the contestant Mr. Robison, who was sworn in and took his seat. A resolution was also passed giving Mr. Shugart pay from the commencement of the session until he was removed. Mr. Robison will of course also receive pay for the session. The report of the majority of the committee will be found in another column. The minority report, if not too long, will be published next week.

THE IMPEACHMENT.—The impeachment trial is going on from day to day, without creating any unusual excitement in Washington or anywhere else. It is generally believed in Washington that the trial will be got through with by the first of June, perhaps by the middle of May, or sooner, and the President convicted.

Mr. Butler, on Saturday, informed the Senate that the testimony on the part of the House of Representatives was substantially closed.

Counsel for the defense were, on their own motion, allowed till Thursday next to arrange their evidence, when Judge Curtis will open the case on behalf of the President.

☞ A Washington despatch says that the President has no idea of his being convicted of the present impeachment charges. The only article, he said, on which they could find a shadow of a pretence for convicting him of a misdemeanor was that relating to the removal of Stanton, but even this, he thinks, is wholly insufficient. The Managers on the part of the House and their friends are just as confident of their ability to convict the President, as he and his counsel are of an acquittal. On the whole question of impeachment, and everything connected with it, it may be said that the statements published from time to time as to the manner in which certain Senators will vote on the question are pure speculations.

It may be further stated that the votes of Senators on the questions coming before them during the progress of the trial, have no significance as regards their vote on the final question as to the President's guilt or innocence.

☞ Many of the Republican journals of the State are censuring Chief Justice Chase for the apparent conservative course he is pursuing, and some of them were those that at no late period were loud in their praises of him, and strenuous in their advocacy of his claims for the Presidency. Now, they do not trust him, and with one accord they favor the people's choice—Gen. U. S. Grant. This is significant as showing the unreliability of certain men when they are to be chosen as public leaders and rulers. Gen. Grant was thought to be too conservative by the Chase men, and therefore they opposed him; but yet time and experience have shown them that it is just such conservatism as is acceptable to the people. He has not the bitterness of a sectionalist, nor the follies of a politician. He is a man whom we consider has the welfare of his whole country at heart, and is not ready to barter his principles for the sake of party nomination. He is undeniably the people's choice, and we are pleased to recognize the readiness with which the Republican party of the East and of the West, at their State Conventions, resolve with unprecedented unanimity to support him for the Presidency. Would that the party was equally unanimous in their choice for the Vice Presidency.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.—The election on Monday, from the latest news, resulted in the re-election of English, Democrat, for Governor, by probably a decreased majority.

THE SHERIFFALTY.—The office of Sheriff of this county is no small affair, as is well evinced by the number of eager candidates whom we understand are making every endeavor to receive the nomination of the Republican party. Twenty aspirants, and perhaps more! Ye honest voters, what do you think of it. If you were all like us, you would no doubt think as we do, and we know we are right when we say that out of this small number there will be only one who will receive the nomination, no matter what may be the spirit of the contest. What, may we ask, is to come of our Legislators, our Prothonotaries, our Registers, &c., if all our office seekers are going to lay claim to one office? Will we turn all the rest of the offices into Sheriffs, in order to satisfy this host, or will we abolish the office of Sheriff entirely, in order to save the aspirants from defeat and disappointment? As either proposition is out of the question, of course we will have to wait until the Convention assembles, and then, like Micawber, see what will turn up. If we had the power we would make all of them Sheriffs, but gentlemen, this is impossible; but we would kindly advise none of you to build too high hopes upon your success; but like good citizens await your chances, and in the meantime, secure a situation in some other pursuit, so that if you are disappointed you will have something to fall back upon.

POOR HOUSE ACCOUNTS.—We find in an exchange the following, showing the population of several counties in the State including our own, and the amount of money paid last year by each for the maintenance of their respective Poor House establishments:

COUNTY.	POPULATION.	EXPENSES.
Berks,	94,043	$39,551 08
Washington,	47,319	8,772 72
Lancaster,	116,621	30,300 00
Montgomery,	70,494	40,282 68
Juniata,	16,300	9,737 86
Perry,	21,640	8,328 60
Dauphin,	48,940	20,000 00
Lebanon,	30,030	17,290 61
Westmoreland,	44,020	17,023 03
Cumberland,	40,402	15,107 00
Mifflin,	16,378	6,102 08
Huntingdon,	28,204	5,848 54
Chester,	74,749	18,772 20
York,	68,088	39,500 00

The above figures show a creditable account in favor of Huntingdon county, and the people of the county cannot complain of the management of the Poor House. The accounts show that there is either less pauperism in Huntingdon county, or else more economizing of expenses than in any other county perhaps in the State. Our Directors of the Poor deserve credit for the manner in which they have kept down the expenses of this institution.

A TERRIBLE RIOT.—Intelligence reached the city Wednesday evening that a desperate riot was going on at the coal mines of John O'Neill & Son, at Pine Run, on the Monongahela river, three miles above McKeesport.—The first intimation of the riot was received by the Mayor, who was telegraphed to send up immediately ten or twelve policeman and the Coroner. Chief Green enrolled thirty men, who were properly armed and drilled for the encounter they would probably be engaged in, but previous to the time for the departure of the train, a telegram was received stating that the services of the police would not be needed last night, as the rioters had dispersed.

Relative to the origin of the riot, it seems that some time ago the miners in the employ of Mr. O'Neill & Son struck for a certain rate of wages. After holding out until yesterday they returned to work, which so exasperated the miners in the neighboring works that they determined to compel them to quit labor and hold out.—With this object in view some two hundred men from the neighborhood of Six Mile Ferry arrived about noon yesterday at O'Neill's works, armed with clubs. They called upon the miners to come out and cease work.—Their demand was refused by Mr. O'Neill and his men, and a collision ensued between the parties. Mr. O'Neill and his men were armed in anticipation of the trouble, and at the onset of the rioters discharged their weapons at them, killing one man, and wounding five, only one of the latter, however, seriously. In the melee Mr. O'Neill was severely, but not dangerously wounded by blows from clubs. Having met with a warmer reception than they anticipated, and not caring to prolong the fight with clubs against powder and lead, the mob dispersed.

After rioters had left, Mr. O'Neill was reinforced from the neighborhood, and last night himself and property was guarded by one hundred armed men. His son will be in the city today, and make an information before Mayor Blackmore against the rioters, when a sufficient armed force will be sent up for their arrest.—Pittsburg Commercial.

Perhaps some persons may think it not a little strange that two influential Roman Catholic papers of the Democratic persuasion politically—one in New York, the other in Cincinnati—should within the last few days have come out for Mr. Chase for President. With them, not as with certain journals which have proposed Mr. Chase more in derision than earnest, they appear to be entirely sincere, a fact which, while there is not the least likelihood of the Democracy adopting Mr. Chase, proves that really there is something at the bottom of the idea. The fact denotes liberality in another respect—Mr. Chase being a leading Methodist.

Says a New York letter: In the event of the removal of the President Mr. Seward writes to his friends here, so I am informed, that he will at once leave the Cabinet. In Wall street, Mr. McCullough's friends are in doubt as to his course, in the same contingency, but those of them who sustain the closest business relations with him, appear to be pretty confident that he likewise will resign his place. Horace Greely is confidently spoken of as Mr. Randall's successor in the Postoffice Department.

Report in the Contested Election Case.

Mr. Landon, from the committee selected to try the contested election case of Robison vs. Shugart, made the following report, viz:

In the matter of the contested election in the Twenty-first Senatorial district, the select committee present the following report:

The last election returns gave Sam'l T. Shugart, the Democratic candidate 14,124 votes, and John K. Robison, the Republican candidate, 14,102 votes, the first mentioned, therefore, having twenty-two (22) majority, claimed and was accorded a seat in the Senate. The election is contested by the said Robison, upon the ground of fraudulent and illegal voting upon the day of election, claiming that if all illegal and unauthorized votes be excluded from the count, that he and not the sitting member would be clearly and positively entitled to the seat.

Your committee was drawn on the 9th day of January, 1868. They met on the same day and organized, H. B. Swoope and John Cessna appearing as counsel for the contestant, and Hon. John Maynard, Wm. H. Miller and John H. Orvis, Esq., for the sitting member. The committee has met daily, as required by law, and during most of the time have held two meetings per day. One hundred and seventy-six (176) witnesses were called and heard on the part of the petitioner and contestants, during a period of three weeks, two hundred and four witnesses on the part of the respondent, during a period of six weeks, making the total number of witnesses examined three hundred and eighty.

The business sessions of the committee were held at the capitol except one, when a meeting was held in Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county, for the examination of the naturalization records of that county, for the purpose of ferreting out certain alleged naturalization frauds claimed to have originated in that locality.

A minute analysis of the vast am't of evidence taken would be tedious and unnecessary in this report. The committee presents herein the prominent and determining facts of the case without elaborating details, only adding in their own behalf that they have performed the duty assigned them with all possible industry and care, and present this conclusion of their protracted labors free from partisan bias upon their candor and sworn obligation.

The counsel for the respondent have earnestly contended that the whole of Taylor township, in the county of Centre, should be thrown out, for the reason, as they allege, that it was not held at the place fixed by law. In this township, the contestant had eighteen majority. It seems that by an act of Assembly in 1848, it was provided that the election in Taylor township, in the county of Centre, should be held at the school house near Hannah Furnace. In August, 1856, a petition of the citizens of the township was presented to the court of quarter sessions of the county, setting forth that the school house near Hannah Furnace, where the election was appointed by law to be held, had been removed, and praying the court to order the election to be held at another place, or authorize an election to be held in the township, for the purpose of fixing a place at which to hold the general election. On the back of this petition the court endorsed an order, fixing Friday, the 26th of September, as the day for holding an election in the township, for the purpose of determining where the general election should be held. This order was made on the 25th day of August, 1856. A paper was produced by the prothonotary which he states he found in his office, but which is not marked filed, purporting to be the return of the election so authorized by the court. This paper shows for the house of William Adams, fourteen votes; for the Henderson school house, five votes; and for the Hannah school house, three votes. No action seems ever to have been taken upon it by the court. No order or decree was ever made fixing the house of William Adams as the place of holding the election. The parol proof in this case showed that the election was held for a while at the house of Wm. Adams; that it was transferred in some manner from there to a wagon-maker shop on land of Thomas Merryman, about the year 1860; that in the fall of 1860 the wagon-maker shop was torn down, and Thomas Merryman forbid the officers from holding any more elections on his premises; that they went to the nearest school house (the Henderson school house, one and a half mile distant from Merryman's,) where they held the spring election in 1867, and also the fall election, which we are asked to decide invalid. Without a further statement of facts, the committee excludes this poll from the election returns, which deducts eighteen votes from the returned vote for Jno. K. Robison.

The respondent claims to have proved sixty-eight illegal scattering votes cast for the contestant, comprising minors, non-residents and non-tax payers. This being the whole number claimed, the committee allows the full number and deducts the same from the vote of John K. Robison.

Both parties have proved a large number of deserter votes. The defense claims that this whole question should be ignored. Without stating the argument in the case and realizing the difficulties gathering about the subject, the committee accede to the claim, and leave this class of voters where the general election returns have placed them, without expressing any opinion upon the legal questions involved in the matter.

The returns from Carbon township, Huntingdon county, give the sitting member sixty-five majority. This the committee exclude from the count, for the following reasons:

1. Because the election was improperly held. It was in a hotel; there was a crowd around the table upon which the ballots were being deposited, and a great deal of disorder while the tickets were being counted. At one time during the day the whole board, except one inspector, was absent, and he continued taking votes, receving, among others, the vote of one William Plumb, an unnaturalized foreigner.

2. Because there was no certificate of the oaths of the officers filed in the prothonotary's office, as required by law.

3. Because when the ballot box was opened in the presence of the committee, it was found to contain newspapers, old election returns, pamplet laws, &c., but no tickets and no list of taxables.

4. Because a certified copy of the list of taxables from the commissioner's office showed that forty-one names on the list of voters were not on the assessment, and in the absence of the list of taxables from the ballot box, it was impossible to ascertain how or why these persons were permitted to vote.

The committee are of opinion that the irregularities surrounding this election are of so gross and flagrant a kind as to render it impossible to ascertain what was the true expression of the popular will.

One of the material allegations of the petitioners was that a gross fraud had been perpetrated in the borough of Phillipsburg and in Rush township, in the county of Centre. In support of this charge, the following facts and circumstances were relied on:

That about twelve days previous to the election Irish railroad hands, to the number of eighty and upwards, were sent from the unfinished work in Clearfield county, to Phillipsburg and Rush township, in Centre county, ostensibly for the purpose of completing about forty rods of road on the Centre county side of the line; that these men, instead of being boarded at the shanties, erected for that purpose, in proximity to the work on the Clearfield side of the line, where quartered at the hotels in Phillipsburg and Rush township; that they were illegally assessed before they came into the district, from lists furnished the assessors by one Mark Leddy, as boss on the railroad; that it was expressly said by James Collins, one of the contractors, and Richard O'Gormon, his foreman, when the men were ordered to Phillipsburg, that they were sent there to vote and carry the district for the Democratic ticket; and they did vote, having been brought up to the polls by Mark Leddy and Sheriff Perks, who furnished the special tickets that had been printed and prepared for the purpose; that thirty-seven of these tickets were found in the Phillipsburg box, and twenty-seven in the box of Rush township; that they voted on forged naturalization papers, purporting to be issued by the court of common pleas of Luzerne county; that these papers were shown to be forged by an examination of the records of the court, made by the committee, and clear proof that similar papers, bearing the seal of the court, and purporting to be signed by M. J. Philbin, the prothonotary, were strewn all over Luzerne county, to be obtained for the asking; and that immediately after having thus voted, these men returned to Clearfield county, all of them having left the hotels in Phillipsburg and Rush township, within four days after the election. All these facts, with many corroborating circumstances, were clearly established, to the satisfaction of the committee, by evidence too voluminous to be recited in this respect.

It was shown by the inspector and clerk of the election that at least thirty-three of these fraudulent votes were received and included in the return in the borough of Phillipsburg. The committee are fully satisfied that these thirty-three votes should be deducted from the number returned for the sitting member.

In Rush township, the number of these fraudulent votes actually received and counted could not be ascertained from the evidence. For this and other reasons, the contestant claims that the whole vote of Rush township should be thrown out, and excluded from the return. He bases this claim on the following facts:

1. Because the board, which was entirely of one party, was not legally constituted, the only officer elected by the people being the judge; both the inspectors being deserters, and having been appointed improperly by the judge, out of the same political party, and not in accordance with the provisions of the law regulating elections.

2. That the election was improperly conducted, the house being open all day, the collector sitting at the table with the ballot box upon it, receiving taxes with a large crowd around him, and a large number of persons in the room when the votes were being counted off.

3. That no list of taxables was found in the ballot box, and no record was kept or produced to show how many persons voted.

4. That a large number of votes was received from persons with forged naturalization papers, only one of whom was sworn, and when they were challenged, the challenges were disregarded; that it was impossible, under the circumstances, to ascertain what was the true expression of the popular will. The committee are unable to determine how many illegal votes were received and counted in this township, the respondent having failed to call before them either the inspectors or clerks of the election, and no record having been found in the ballot box, as required by law. When it had been show on the part of the contestant, that fraudulent votes had been received, that the officers absolutely refused to discharge their sworn duty, and admitted every vote offered in spite of remonstrances and challenges, the integrity of the return was at once destroyed.

The committee is constrained, therefore, to exclude from the count the whole vote of Rush township, which gave fifty-one majority for the sitting member.

This hasty review of the prominent facts, put in a condensed recapitulation, stands thus:

The original election returns gave Samuel T. Shugart		14,124
At Phillipsburg	33
Rush township	51
Miscellaneous illegal votes, exclusive of deserters' votes	23
Carbon township	65	172
		13,952
The general election returns gave John K. Robison		14,102
From this deduct rejected majority of Taylor Township	18
Miscellaneous illegal vote, exclusive of deserters' votes	68	86
		14,016

Leaving to the contestant, John K. Robison, a legal majority of sixty-four votes, and said Robison is therefore entitled to the seat.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE IMPEACHMENT.

WASHINGTON, April 1, 1868.—The Republicans are well satisfied with the progress and character of the day's proceedings in the trial. The legislation in both branches is practically suspended. The House met at noon, and dispensing with the reading, after a few sentences of the journal, went immediately over to the Senate. The attendance of members is daily decreasing. At the opening of the trial Mr. Sumner obtained the sense of the Senate on the question of the right of the Chief Justice to vote when the Senate was equally divided, which was decided in favor of Mr. Chase by 26 to 21. The counsel for the President labored strenuously to have the various conversations of Thomas ruled out, but in all cases they were overruled either by the Chief Justice or the Senate.

Mr. Burleigh, of Dakotah, finished his testimony begun yesterday by relating that Thomas had declared that he should use force to get into the War Department if necessary, and afterwards that his arrest by civil authorities alone had prevented him. Stanbery's cross-examination of this witness was of a higher order than that of yesterday.

Samuel Wilkinson, the well-known journalist, gives a very clear account of an interview with Thomas and the statements of the latter on two occasions that he should call on Grant for troops, and that he did not see how Grant could refuse. Evidence was attentively listened to by all present, and the examination of the next witness gave rise to continued and violent laughter on all sides.

A Mirth-Provoking Witness.

Mr. Karsner, of Delaware, is one of the large farmers of that State, "a Delaware boy," as he termed himself, though some forty-five years old. He was perfectly unconcerned and apparently utterly ignorant that either style or words were in the least ludicrous, but the account of his visit to the White House, his meeting Gen. Thomas in the east room, telling him the eyes of Delaware were on him, and his relating it all afterward to a man named Smith, and whose first name was not John but William, was droll to the last degree. The Chief Justice laughed till he shook. Counsel laughed. The managers put their heads down on the table and laughed till the tumblers rattled on it. Senators held their sides and laughed, the galleries responded heartily, and in fact the whole audience, official and unofficial, filling the inside of the chamber, shook till the old comparision to a bowl of jelly was quite applicable to the audience as a whole. It is safe to say there has never been such general and long continued laughter in the Senate chamber before.

WASHINGTON, April 2, 1868.

The House managers did not arrive as promptly as usual, and a brief pause ensued. At 12 o'clock and ten minutes, the managers on the part of the House of Representatives were announced and on their heels came the members of the House. Not twenty members however were in line, many of them remaining in their own chamber, after the Senate was in session, writting letters and indulging in speculative conversation as to the prospects of impeachment.

The first witness was Mr. Kersener, of Delaware, who was recalled at the instance of Mr. Stanbery. Only a few unimportant questions were put to him, after which he was allowed to depart.

Congressman Ferry of Michigan, was then called to the stand, and substantiated the testimony of Hon. Burt Van Horn and General Moorehead, relative to the interview between Gen. Thomas and Secretary Stanton at the War Department.

Gen. Emory Commander of this district, was next called and examined by General Butler:—He is a Colonel of cavalry and a brevet Major-General; has been in command of this department since December, 1867; had a conversation with the President on the subject of the forces here; can only give the substance of that conversation; the President asked him about the facts and forces around Washington; he told him as nearly as he could the strength of each post.

Therefore, I, M. M. LOGAN, Treasurer of the county of Huntingdon, do hereby give notice that upon the following tracts of unseated land, situate as hereinafter described, the several sums stated are the arrearages of taxes, respectively, due and unpaid for one year, and that in pursuance of the direction of the afore said Act of Assembly, I shall, on MONDAY, THE 8TH DAY OF JUNE NEXT, at the Court House, in the borough of Huntingdon, commence the Public Sale of the whole or any part of such tracts of unseated land, upon which all or any part of the taxes herein specified shall then be due; and continue such sale by adjournment until all the tracts upon which the taxes shall remain due and unpaid, shall be sold.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Brief Items.

—How to have a big time: buy a town clock.

—Needs board-walks in every street and on all sides: West Huntingdon.

—Hint: our streets are now muddy; before long they will be dusty.

—A new stock of spectacles just received at Lewis' Book Store.

—Fresh Garden and Flower Seeds for sale at Lewis' Book Store. tf.

—Mrs. Margaret Tate died in Tyrone, on the 22d of March ult, aged about 98 years.

—Next Sunday is Easter. Of course eggs will be in demand, and the hens will be required to "shell out."

—The "flitters" were very busy in our town on Wednesday last, and of the number there were not a few.

—For the greatest variety of new styles of Wall Paper, go to Lewis' Book Store. tf.

—A car of coal oil was burned on Saturday night in the Altoona yard. Fired it is thought by an incendiary.

—Look out for a "cold id the nose" in this season of untimely snows, for it may extend to your toes, and you may "go up the spout"—you knows.

—The steamer Etna has commenced running between Hollidaysburg and Petersburg. It evidently don't pay to run to Huntingdon.

—Wm. Donovan was hung at York, Pa., on Tuesday last, for the murder of a man named Boyle. He died protesting his innocence.

—The largest and most handsome stock of new styles of Wall Paper ever received in Huntingdon, for sale at Lewis' Book Store. Call and see.

—We are informed that a company has organized in this place to establish an Edge Tool Manufactory in West Huntingdon. The works will be in operation by fall.

—The gas in the Presbyterian church of Hollidaysburg suddenly went out on Sunday night, and the congregation was as suddenly left in darkness—not spiritual perhaps.

—The tobacco store of A. C. Clarke, Agent, has been removed to Swoope's corner, in the Diamond, and looks as neat and attractive as a sweet miss of sixteen summers.

—We learn that preparations are shortly to be made to take out the iron ore near Alexandria, this county, where it is said to abound in considerable quantities.

—William H. Lower, of Clover Creek, Blair county, was drowned on Sunday, 15th ult. He was about 40 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children.

—We had a steady fall of snow on Saturday last, and the succeeding day reminded us strongly of the saying that "winter lingers in the lap of spring." Spring ought to box winter's ears and send him home.

—The largest stock, and largest number of new and beautiful styles of Wall Paper ever received in Huntingdon can be seen at Lewis' Book Store. All in want of Wall Paper and Window Shades should go and examine his stock. tf.

—The Bedford Inquirer says that Mr. John Miller, resident of the western part of the county, was attacked by a panther recently; but escaped through the fleetness of the animal he was riding. The brute made a spring at him from the branches of a tree, but its screeches frightened the horse, who sprang aside just in time to prevent the panther from fastening on him

—Rev. G. W. Zahniser, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will lead the Bible Class in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, next Sabbath afternoon, at 31 o'clock. The public is invited. Rev. J. J. Kerr, pastor of the Lutheran church, has made an appointment for the following Sunday.

—Base ball players may be gratified to know that the ball will be smaller this year, and must be stamped with the size, weight and maker's name, otherwise a match game will be "null and void." This rule, it is thought, will do away to some extent with broken fingers; but we can't see how it is going to prevent sprained ankles and broken constitutions.

—When Blair county gets its new jail completed it is thought probable that Huntingdon county will send her criminals there for safe keeping. It keeps us busy noticing the escapes from our jail, and we have concluded that the best thing that can be done for the criminals under the circumstances is "to swear them and let them go" a la militaire. What have our Commissioners done with the recommendation of a recent Grand Jury?

Two Children Drowned.

One of the saddest cases of drowning that has taken place in this county for a long time, occurred on Sunday afternoon last at Mount Rock mill dam, about a mile north of town. The wife of David Riden, of Brown township, had been on a visit to town, and was returning home in a buggy driven by a boy. In driving along the pike at the dam—always considered a dangerous place—the horse took fright at a large rock lying in front of Stanford's quarry and commenced backing As there is no protection whatever, the buggy and horse went over into the water, probably not less than ten feet deep, plunging all into it except Mrs. R. who managed to prevent herself from falling in on the very edge of the bank. The boy, although most under the horse, also got out, but both children sank and were drowned before their bodies were recovered. The oldest was aged three years, and the youngest some 18 months.—Lewistown Gazette.

☞ Dr. Witmer, of Philadelphia, will be at the Franklin House, Huntingdon, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the 13th, 14th and 15th April, (Court week,) to consult with the sick and afflicted of all diseases, and furnish medicines for their cure without fail. See advertisement in another column. 2t

BOROUGH ELECTION.

The "Organ" 'Busted' Things Generally.

We give below, the tickets voted for on Monday. The "Republican Ticket" was forced upon the party by John Nash and the editor from Oneida. The substantial Republicans of the town couldn't stand the dictation of the "organ" any longer, and the result is the defeat of the important part of the "organ's" ticket. If a ticket had been put in nomination by the Republican party it could have been elected by 75 majority. The "organ's" work has seriously 'busted' things. It should now 'shut up' and cease its work of disorganization, and work for the success of the party.

Normal School Meeting.

The subscribers to raise a fund to build a State Normal School at this place, held a meeting in the Treasurer's office in the Court House on Monday last, which was organized by calling John Scott, Esq., to the chair, and appointing Robert McDivitt, Secretary.

Professor Wickersham, State Superintendent, was present and made extended, very appropriate and satisfactory remarks as to the advantages the location of the School here would be to the borough, the county, and the counties adjoining. After Mr. W. had closed his remarks,

On motion Wm. P. Orbison, Alex. Port and Dr. R. A. Miller were appointed a committee to prepare articles of association to be presented to Court for act of incorporation.

On motion Wm. B. Zeigler, Frank Heffright, G. Miller, R. R. Bryan and Wm. F. Johnston were appointed a committee to procure additional subscriptions.

On motion John W. Mattern, Wm. Lewis, H. G. Fisher, Samuel T. Brown, and John Scott, were appointed a committee to ascertain at what price locations for the School could be secured.

On motion adjourned to meet at the Court House on Saturday evening next, to hear reports of committees and to vote on the location of the building.

Another Member of the "House of York" Departed.

In last week's papers was announced the death of John Reed, Esq., at an advanced age. Mr. Reed was appointed Register and Recorder by Gov. Ritner, and came to reside in Huntingdon about thirty-two years ago. He then became a member of the popular boarding house, known at that time extensively and favorably as the "House of York," kept by an estimable widow lady Mrs. Clarke. Here the writer first made his acquaintance. Being the oldest male member, and ever kind and amiable in his deportment, Mr. Reed was not only highly esteemed, but held in reverence and looked up to as a father, by all the inmates of that large family of boarders. The election of 1838 brought a new administration into power in Pennsylvania, when Mr. Reed retired from the office of Register and Recorder, but was elected to the same office, under the new Constitution, in the fall of 1839. In 1840 he was a successful candidate on the Harrison electoral ticket, but after that devoted more of his time to law than politics. Mr. Reed was up, to the time of his death, and for many years, a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church. It is very sad to reflect, that of the very large and social family of boarders and inmates of the "House of York," in eighteen hundred and thirty-eight, death has now the majority.

Should this meet the eyes of any of the surviving members of the "House of York," it will carry their memories back to the many happy hours we spent in that pleasant family circle, gone never to return, and they will shed a tear to the memory of our good old friend departed. W.

*The House is the large brick building on Railroad street, now occupied as a Station House by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Alert Base Ball Club.

The Alert Base Ball Club of McConnellstown was reorganized on the 17th ult. By the first of May we will be ready to give and receive challenges for match games, and we hope our neighboring clubs will not fail to give us a call. H. C. Rohm, of Philadelphia, was elected an honorary member. The club also acknowledge the receipt of caps sent by him last fall, for which he has our warmest thanks.

Notice to Teachers.

The undersigned has made an arrangement with Prof. Kuhn of Milnwood Academy, Shade Gap, to teach during the months of May and June, in that Institution. The object is to give instruction in the branches required by law to be taught in our common schools. A number of young persons desirous of teaching have signified their willingness to attend, and if there are others who desire to attend this School they can be accommodated.

I have no pecuniary interest whatever in this arrangement, and my only object is to afford all the assistance in my power to increase the number of better qualified teachers. Teachers who received a low grade of certificate this year must improve or by another year their services will be dispensed with. The State Superintendent has earnestly urged the importance of raising the standard of teacher's qualifications, and the best interests of our schools imperatively demand that this should be done.

The School opens on the first Wednesday in May, and continues five months. Terms $16 per month for Board, Tuition, and Room Rent.—Those who wish to study the Languages or the Higher Mathematics can do so in the regular classes of that Institution.

Prof. Kuhn brings high testimonials as an accomplished teacher, and has I believe given general satisfaction during the time he has taught in our county. D. F. TUSSEY,
April 2, 1868.–2t Co. Supt.

PACIFIC GUANO COMPANY'S

SOLUBLE

PACIFIC GUANO.

The attention of Farmers and other consumers of Fertilizers is invited to this Guano, as worthy of their special notice. Its use for several years in Maryland, Virginia and other southern States, for all crops, has given it a standard character for excellence unequalled by any other. It possesses all the quickness of Peruvian Guano and the permanent qualities as is found in that article. 250 lbs of this Guano are found more than equal to 300 lbs of the best Superphosphates. It ripens the wheat crop from five to seven days earlier than the phosphates, which fact alone gives it incalculable advantages.

ELECTRIC HAIR RENEWER,

Is pronounced by all who have used it the very best preparation for the Hair. It is a positive cure for Baldness, eradicates Dandruff and Humors, stops the hair from falling out, and speedily restores Gray Locks to their original hue and luxuriance.

It operates on the secretions and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter. Thin, dead, failed or gray hair will always be brought back by a few applications, to its youthful abundance, vitality and color.

It makes the hair soft, glossy, fragrant, pleasant to the touch and easy to arrange. Dry, wiry and intractable locks become moist, pliant and disposed to remain in any desired position. As a Hair Dressing it has no equal.—The sales are enormous and it is a universal favorite with old and young of both sexes.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fathers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as *reasonable terms as at any House in town.
